

Raymond DeKalb has everything going for him, but it sure doesn't feel like it. At nineteen, he's living the high life in college, his folks have money, and he's supposed to be going places in life. But where? Everybody but Ray-Ray DeKalb seems to know. His life feels all planned out for him. On top of that, his girlfriend has dumped him for his own brother! What to do, what to do?

Well, it's 1978, it's springtime, it's the era of sex, drugs, and rock & roll, and Myrtle Beach, S.C. – that mecca of youthful angst and yearning, with its boulevard of boundless promise, its pavilion of infinite hope – is just down the road away, and beckoning.

So a get-away to the Grand Strand becomes the Grand Plan!

But Ray-Ray will soon learn that even on the King's Highway a young man's troubles go wherever he goes – and that just when you least expect it, things can go from bad to worse.

James D. McCallister
www.jamesdmccallister.com

James D. McCallister

KING'S HIGHWAY

$14.95 US

Red Letter Press

Red Letter Press
redletterpress.googlepages.com

James D. McCallister